Q4 2025 Fund Commentary

Commentary and opinions are provided by Picton Mahoney Asset Management.

Market commentary

Global equities rose over the fourth quarter of 2025 because of strong corporate earnings and U.S. Federal Reserve Board interest rate cuts, which offset early volatility. The S&P/TSX Composite Index gained 6.3%, led by the materials, consumer discretionary and financials sectors, with large-capitalization and value stocks outperforming.

U.S. economic growth remained strong, but a federal government shutdown and softer jobs and manufacturing data signalled cooling momentum. Inflation eased in the U.S., supporting a shift in monetary policy from the Fed and improving market sentiment. Canada's economy rebounded on trade gains, though domestic demand and manufacturing stayed weak.

Performance

The Fund's relative exposures to Royal Bank of Canada, Hudbay Minerals Inc. and Aritzia Inc. contributed to performance. Relative exposures to RB Global Inc., Brookfield Corp. and Atkinsrealis Group Inc. detracted from performance.

At the sector level, security selection in the consumer discretionary and financials sectors contributed to the Fund's performance. Underweight exposure to the real estate sector and overweight exposure to the financials sector also contributed to performance. Stock selection in the industrials and energy sectors detracted from performance. Underweight exposure to the materials sector and overweight exposure to the industrials sector detracted from performance.

Portfolio activity

The sub-advisor both added to the Fund a holding in Altus Group Ltd. and then sold it during the quarter. Other additions included holdings in NFI Group Inc., National Bank of Canada, Gildan Activewear Inc., Finning International Inc. and Emera Inc.

Fund holdings in Constellation Software Inc., Galaxy Digital Inc., DoorDash Inc., Jamieson Wellness Inc. and Zillow Group Inc. were sold.

Outlook

Canada's economic growth in 2025 was pressured by U.S. and China tariffs, with trade uncertainty set to persist into 2026 amid Canada-United States-Mexico Agreement renegotiations. In the sub-advisor's view, ongoing tariff risks are likely to weigh on exports and dampen business investment sentiment.

Consumer spending is projected to be the main driver of Canadian economic growth in 2026. The Bank of Canada enters 2026 cautiously, with monetary policy remaining data-dependent as inflation stays near the central bank's target of 2%.

According to the sub-advisor, the Fund is positioned to benefit from AI and energy-driven demand, focusing on resource sectors, earnings strength and growth exposure.
