Q3 2025 Fund Commentary

Market commentary

The global economy was resilient in the third quarter despite trade uncertainty and geopolitical issues. U.S. tariffs weighed on sentiment, but monetary easing in key regions supported growth. Developed markets underperformed, while emerging markets, particularly in Asia, benefited from a weaker U.S. dollar.

Inflation moderated in most regions. Central banks in Canada and the U.K. cut interest rates, while the U.S. Federal Reserve Board lowered its policy rate to 4.00%–4.25%. Trade tensions continued to hamper investment and industrial activity, which government spending in Europe and China helped offset.

Global equity markets rose. The MSCI World Index gained 9.7%, supported by strong earnings and enthusiasm for artificial intelligence (AI). U.S. large-cap technology stocks drove the S&P 500 Index and NASDAQ Composite Index to new highs. Emerging market equities outperformed their developed market peers.

Performance

The Fund's relative exposure to Contemporary Amperex Technology Co. Ltd. (CATL) contributed to performance. CATL performed well amid optimism that it will benefit from its dominant position in the expanding energy storage battery system.

Relative exposure to Deutsche Boerse AG and SAP SE detracted from the Fund's performance. Deutsche Boerse was affected by lower derivatives and cash-equity volumes because of shifting interest rate expectations. SAP's stock price consolidated after a multi-quarter run as investors reassessed the cadence of the cloud transition and the company's margin trajectory.

At the sector level, stock selection within health care and industrials contributed to the Fund's performance. Stock selection in financials detracted from performance amid weakness in Europe. Overweight exposure to consumer staples detracted from performance because of weakness in tobacco companies.

Portfolio activity

The sub-advisor added British American Tobacco PLC to diversify the Fund's tobacco exposure. The company is expanding its reduced-risk product/nicotine pouch franchise. NVIDIA Corp. was increased as it benefits from AI investment. Philip Morris International Inc. was reduced in favour of British American Tobacco.
